R95-04-043	Order Instituting Rulemaking on the Commission's Own Motion Into Competition for Local Exchange Service
I95-04-044	Order Instituting Investigation on the Commission's Own Motion Into Competition for Local Exchange Service

Summary: On June 11, 2001, Early Nicholas Selby, counsel to Focal Communications Corporation of California (Focal), Yipes Transmission, Inc. (Yipes), and eVoice Telecom, Inc. (eVoice), had a telephone conversation with Tom Bateman, Executive Director of the California Communities Dispute Service, acting as an advisor to Cmmr. Brown. Referring to the "271 application" proceeding involving the bid by Pacific Bell Telephone Company to enter interLATA telecommunications services markets, Selby stated that the Commission's focus should be enlarged to understand the improper means by which PacBell interferes with competition by competitive local exchange carriers (CLECs). Selby stated that the Focal, Yipes and eVoice were all concerned that the present pattern and climate of discrimination against CLECs would only become worse if PacBell were allowed into interLATA markets without appropriate safeguards. Selby urged the Commission not to overlook the patter of discrimination in interconnection matters involving PacBell, and mentioned specific instances of discrimination.

06/15/01	A00-06-032	Southern California Gas Company, for authority to implement a rate for peaking service as ordered by D.00-04-060

Summary: On June 13, 2001, Ned Greenwood, Project Manager for Questar Southern Trails Pipeline Company (Questar), met with Julie Halligan, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, in San Francisco. Also present was Michael Day of Goodin, MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie & Day, counsel for Questar. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Greenwood stated that Questar has received all required regulatory and environmental approvals, and is ready for construction, save for the fact that customers cannot commit to firm contracts for service until the peaking rate case is resolved in a manner acceptable to the customers. Greenwood indicated that potential customers for the Questar project had uniformly indicated that the proposed Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas) peaking rates were the most important factor in preventing customers from committing to Questar. Day stated that the Commission should not adopt the proposed decision (PD) which adopted the majority of the elements of the cost-based peaking rate proposal of SoCalGas. Day indicated that the PD should be replaced with an alternate which permitted interruptible peaking rates, assigned demand charges on a customer class basis instead of system-wide, and imposed demand charges on customers based on their usage on the system peak day. Day also stated that new customers should not be subject to the peaking rate.

Summary: On June 12, 2001, Tom Beach, an expert witness for Watson Cogeneration Company (Watson), had a telephone conversation with Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch. Beach stated that Watson agreed with the proposed decision that the demand charge should be designed using coincident peak demand on the Southern California Gas Company system, that is, the demand on the system peak day. Beach explained that if the demand charge is designed based on coincident peak demand, then the demand charge billed to a peaking customer should be based on the customer's usage on the system peak day, not on the customer's peak day usage at some other time of the year (noncoincident peak day demand). Beach confirmed that Watson had proposed an all-volumetric rate for interruptible peaking service.
